

CHS Sport Fanatics

By Valentin Gaytan

Many Collegiate students enjoy watching sports in their free time. Collegiate junior Jacob King enjoys watching baseball. He claims that his “favorite team is the Tampa Bay Rays.” And Evan Longoria is his favorite player. He likes Evan because, “He represents the Rays in a way that the other players do not, and he has the best stats on the team most of the time.” He adds, “I am looking forward to the Rays playing against the Boston Red Sox because the two teams are rivals.” He owns a few Rays jerseys and t-shirts.

Aside from baseball, Jacob enjoys watching hockey because of the constant action. “Going to see hockey in person is quite an experience,” he says.

Another Collegiate sports fan is Cooper Warren. His favorite sport to watch is soccer. He is, “looking most forward to the Chelsea vs. Manchester City game.” The game was on September 30 and Manchester City won 1-0. He was looking forward to this match because Chelsea is his favorite team and it was a big game for both clubs. His favorite team is Chelsea because he likes their style of playing. His favorite player is Eden Hazard because he is “a creative player and scores a lot.” He has a Chelsea jersey with “Hazard” on the back.

Left: Jacob King says his “favorite team is the Tampa Bay Rays.”

Below: Cooper Warren, midfielder for Orlando City Academy, is mid-stride trying to complete a pass forward while battling against another player from San Jose.

