EMILY ROGERS

As a consultant and coach Emily strategically advises and supports businesses, organizations and individuals in growing and achieving their full potential in purposeful and balanced ways. Prior to founding her consulting and coaching practice in 2013, Emily held various executive leadership, consulting, business development, marketing, and education and training roles. She was president & chief growth officer and a senior consultant at IEG – a sponsorship consulting firm; a sponsorship executive at the Florida State Fairgrounds; a public relations representative for the Florida Department of Citrus; and an elementary school teacher. She is a sought after speaker that has presented keynote presentations, lectures and lead workshops throughout North America, Europe and Asia.

As a volunteer leader, Emily serves on the Florida Education Foundation Board of Directors & Executive Committee, and the Polk Museum of Art Board of Trustees & Executive Committee. Previously, she served on the Florida Festivals & Events Association Board of Directors and was board chair for two years, the Polk County SPCA Board of Directors & Executive Committee, and the University Of South Florida College Of Education Development Board. Emily graduated from Polk Community College with an Associate in Arts Degree, Florida State University with a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education and a Master's Degree in Reading & Language Arts. She later earned a Master's degree in Educational Leadership from the University of South Florida. Emily recently completed a comprehensive training program at the Coaches Training Institute in Washington DC. Emily lives in Lakeland, Florida with her husband on their citrus and cattle ranch. She enjoys walking with her golden retriever, riding her quarter horse, practicing yoga, gardening, traveling and reading.
