INTERNSHIP SUPERVISOR HANDBOOK

Academic Year 2015-2016

Rev 8/15/15/MW

“We couldn’t do it without you!”

Dear Supervisor,

Polk State College is proud of our reputation for excellence in workforce preparation programs and the Associate in Science and Bachelor’s in Applied Science degrees that support them. As you may already know, we work closely with the community to assure that our programs prepare our students to meet the knowledge and ability requirements of the ever-changing work world, and that they have the skills needed to make a positive difference in any organization in which they work.

Our Internship program helps to provide students who are not already working in their chosen field with meaningful career-based experiences so that they may apply what they’ve learned through their program and hone the skills that they’ve acquired in the process. We greatly appreciate the opportunities provided through our Internship partnerships and work to support a process and experience that is beneficial to both the student and the placement site.

We want to thank you for being a part of this partnership and for providing an internship experience to a Polk State student! We truly couldn’t do it without your support and “real world” opportunity! Your willingness to guide a Polk State intern will enable that intern to launch his/her career, contribute to society, support a family, and achieve personal fulfillment. We thank you.

This handbook includes only the pieces of our Internship Handbook specific to the supervisory process; however, you can find the complete handbook at www.polk.edu/interns.

Please let us know how we may be of assistance throughout this process, and thank you again for your support and partnership!

Sincerely,

Matina

I. Introduction to the Process

Placement Site Supervisor:

Thank you for your interest, support, and partnership with Polk State in offering an internship opportunity for our students. As the intern's placement site supervisor, you will be assisting the student in achieving his/her academic and career goals. You'll be providing formative, and in some cases, transformational experiences and guidance that will take the student closer to reaching his/her career goals.

To help us to better assist you, we ask that you register with us using the "employers" icon at <http://collegecentral.com/polkstate>. By doing so we are better able to facilitate the process of finding an intern who meets your position requirements.

1. Resume: We strive to assist you in connecting with a intern who is a good fit for your organization and who is interested in a career in your industry. You will have the opportunity to review an intern's resume before electing to interview him/her.

2. Interview: After you've reviewed the student's resume, you are encouraged to interview him/her, and to select an intern that fits your position and organization. Note that we are always especially grateful to organizations who give students who are having challenges in launching their career a chance, but that we want both the student and the organization to be comfortable with the internship opportunity because we believe that it will be the pathway that is most beneficial to the student's growth and development.

3. Memorandum of Understanding: Before the student begins his/her experience with you, we ask you to read and sign the Memorandum of Understanding. (See Appendix)

4. Student Evaluation/Feedback: At mid-term and the end of the semester, we ask that you complete a student evaluation and share the feedback with the student. We will also request feedback from you on how we can improve our process at the end of the internship experience. Please let us know how we can assist you along the way. (See Appendix) you know it all that counts.*

II. Supervisory Responsibilities

The following are important guidelines for the Internship Placement Site Supervisor and the Program Director in order to achieve a beneficial internship experience.

Relationship Building and Supervision:

- Take time to get to know the student intern so you can best assist him/her as a supervisor. Ask about his/her goals and aspirations and about his/her needs/expectations of you as a supervisor. Likewise, you should share your needs and expectations of the intern.
- Build a supportive professional relationship that cultivates open communication. This should take place at the work site only. Contact with interns outside of business hours is discouraged.
- Ensure that the internship is a meaningful learning experience for the student by providing opportunities to apply what has been learned in the classroom.
- Provide training and all necessary resources for the position. Provide the intern with information that would be given to any new employee.
- Develop, implement and review the Internship Learning Plan in order to assist the intern in achieving the internship objectives.
- Assure that the intern is engaged in real work, completing his/her assigned duties efficiently and effectively, and striving to improve performance.
- Meet on a regular basis to assist the student in critical thinking and problem solving. Use of “coaching” skills will be an important tool to the supervisor as they aid the intern in gaining independence.
- Evaluate your intern’s progress and provide feedback often and in a constructive manner. Keep in mind that positive feedback reinforces good performance and achieves results up to 4 times faster and more effectively than constructive criticism alone.
- Provide opportunities for increased responsibility as the intern displays his/her ability to do so.
- The intern should generally be treated as a “regular” employee.
- Communicate any concerns, questions, changes or issues regarding the internship to the Polk State Internship Coordinator.

Documentation and Meetings:

- Assure that the Internship Coordinator has current information regarding the intern – including the supervisor’s contact information and the job duties required of the intern (a position description or equivalent)
- Assist the intern in achieving his/her Internship Learning Plan that articulates the student’s goals for the internship and how this placement will help him/her to achieve career objectives.
- Meet on a regular basis to discuss the intern’s assignments and performance.
- Complete a mid-semester evaluation and be available for a site visit from the Internship Coordinator or the intern’s Program Director.
- Complete the intern’s end of semester evaluation and share feedback with the intern to assist him/her in continued growth and development. The Intern Evaluation should be provided to the Internship Coordinator at the conclusion of the internship.

Supervisory Best Practices:

- Set a good example at all times.
- Explain what you're doing, how you're doing it, and why you're doing it.
- Repetition and routine are helpful for an intern's growth, but don't be afraid to ask the intern to stretch his/her skills and/or provide the intern with a variety of responsibilities.
- Set goals in small attainable steps to support success. Engage the intern in the process and review progress on a regular basis.
- Build the intern's independence by providing him/her with trouble-shooting tips and talking the intern through problem-solving steps. Rather than solving all problems for the intern, let the intern learn how to solve them.

Polk State College requires educational partners to support our commitment to diversity: Polk State College is an equal access equal opportunity institution, committed to excellence through diversity in education and employment. The College prohibits unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, ethnicity, gender, age, religion, marital status, veteran status, genetic information, or disability in any of its employment, policies or practices, educational programs, or activities.

The intern comes with the support of Polk State College and his/her Program Director as well as the Internship Coordinator. Please tap into these resources as needed so that we may partner for a successful internship! You may also find the following helpful to you as an Internship Supervisor:

III. Intern Professional Guidelines and Safeguards for Behavior and Performance

A. Internship Professionalism Guidelines:

Schedule and Attendance: Interns should plan for and commit to the schedule they will be keeping with their internship placement during the placement's standard business hours. Maintaining a reliable schedule with dependable attendance is important.

Attire: Interns should wear attire that is suitable for the placement at which they are interning. This attire may not be the same as what is allowed in the classroom; interns will be expected to follow the company's policy for attire when at his/her internship. If in doubt, please discuss with your supervisor, Program Director, or the Internship Coordinator.

Policies: Interns will be expected to know and follow the policies and procedures outlined in this handbook, of Polk State College, and with any applicable policies and procedures of the organization at which they are interning.

Equality and Diversity: Polk State College is an equal access/equal opportunity institution, committed to excellence through diversity in education and employment. The College prohibits unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, ethnicity, gender, age, religion, marital status, veteran status, genetic information, or disability in any of its employment, policies or practices, educational programs, or activities. Interns and supervisors are required to comply with this law.

B. Behavior and Conduct

Communication: Keep your supervisor informed of your progress; talk honestly and professionally with your supervisor if you are experiencing any difficulties. Assure that your Program Director and/or Internship Coordinator are informed of any concerns or difficulties experienced during the internship so that we can assist you in troubleshooting the situation professionally.

Confidentiality: Interns must maintain confidentiality regarding the placement site's business, customers, clients, and associates; and disclose information only on a "need-to-know" basis for the purpose of completing internship assignments. Specifically, do not name individuals in any context outside internship communication, do not discuss specific concerns regarding internship clientele or staff, and handle hard copies of any internship documentation appropriately (per internship site policy). Breaches in confidentiality and/or "gossip" are to be avoided at all costs. For additional information: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Confidentiality>.

HIPAA: The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act includes several parts, but interns need to know and comply with the Privacy Rule which serves to assure that individuals' health information is properly protected while allowing the flow of health information needed to provide and promote high quality health care and to protect the public's health and well-being. Strict compliance with all aspects of HIPAA is required of interns. For more information: <http://www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/summary/index.html>.

Accommodations: Students in need of accommodations for a documented disability needed in order to successfully complete assignments need to inform the Internship Coordinator upon initiation of the internship. Placement Site Supervisors will provide reasonable, but not necessarily the exact, accommodation requested as per ADA requirements.

<http://www.eeoc.gov/policy/docs/accommodation.html>

STUDENTS: If you are concerned or unsure of how to address any particular issue in your internship, meet with the Internship Coordinator to explore options and possible approaches.

C. Internship Assignment Performance

Performance of Assigned Duties: It is important to know that as a student intern you are expected to perform your assigned duties to the best of your ability. If you are concerned about any assigned duties, please speak with your Program Director or the Internship Coordinator as soon as possible. If you need to request additional assistance from your program of study to assist you in learning and performing program-specific skills, please speak with your Program Director or Course Instructor.

Note: Interns should address any performance concerns early! Faculty and/or the Internship Coordinator will attempt to assist you and the placement site supervisor in working through performance issues when requested, but essentially it is your responsibility to achieve success and respond to challenging situations with the appropriate attitude and positive response. An inability to satisfactorily perform the agreed upon duties or a breach in internship site policy could result in termination of the internship.

Professionalism: Professionalism is a quality that we wish all Polk State interns to demonstrate. It refers to the quality of the work provided by the intern. It involves being reliable and dependable, communicating respectfully and courteously at all times, displaying the desired skill sets, yet being willing to learn on the job, being accountable for one's work and willing to correct mistakes. Professionalism can mean different things in different places, and though it is not always defined for you explicitly, it is expected of you! For more information on professionalism:

<http://www.mindtools.com/pages/article/professionalism.htm>.

D. Safeguards and the Law

Legal Safeguards and Guidelines: Internships are governed under the U.S. Department of Labor. State of Florida DOL guidelines will also apply. This status assures that as an intern you will be treated equitably and fairly under the law. Note: as an intern, you function in an “entry- level” position, and you may not always “like” your job duties. However, if you feel that you are being taken advantage of unfairly, please discuss these concerns with your Supervisor, Program Director, and Internship Coordinator. For more information on employment law that may affect you as an intern, please see: <http://www.dol.gov/>.

Legal Liability: Depending on the setting, interns may be exposed to highly sensitive information. It is critical you understand and adhere to the policies and legal-liability guidelines related to your placement site and activities. You are responsible for knowing and complying with any policies and guidelines that govern your assignments at an internship site and for upholding them. Likewise, if you are concerned about the activities of others that you have witnessed directly, you should bring those concerns to the attention of your supervisor as your presence during such conduct or actions can make you liable as a passive bystander. Please note that ignorance of the law does not presume innocence, nor is it a viable defense. Note: Any evidence of legal misconduct will not be tolerated. Consequences may include, but not be limited to, termination of the internship and an incomplete grade for the course. Depending on the severity of the issue, further legal actions could apply.

Safety: Every attempt to assure that an internship site maintains a safe work environment as required by law will be made. Similarly, students should make every attempt to become familiar with and comply with site-specific safety standards and policies while on an internship. Safety measures may include things such as, but not limited to: wearing Personal Protective Equipment (PPE), being trained on the proper use of equipment prior to using it, completing Blood Born Pathogen training, or learning appropriate ways to safely manage a combative patient. You should work closely with supervisors to assure you are properly prepared to safely conduct any internship tasks that could pose a risk to your health, safety, or well-being.

Additionally, although personal safety is an individual responsibility, you are urged to communicate with the supervisor, Program Director, and/or the Internship Coordinator if you have concerns. For more information on safety and related workplace issues: <http://www.osha.gov/>.

Harassment: It is often said, but not always true, that we teach others how to treat us through our own behavior. Assure that your behavior leaves no confusion about the fact that you are a professional in training. Even so, unlawful harassment is a form of discrimination that violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and should not be tolerated. To do your part, always treat your co-workers, including other interns, clients, vendors, and others encountered on the job politely and professionally. Unwelcome, uninvited behavior with sexual, racial, or ethnic overtones occurring in the work place is unlawful harassment and it is illegal; alert your supervisor if you feel victimized by such behavior.

If your supervisor is not responsive to your concerns or you are unsure how to respond to a situation in which you feel harassed as a result of sex, race, age, disability, or other legally protected characteristics, please contact your Program Director and/or the Internship Coordinator immediately. For more information please see: <http://www.eeoc.gov/>
